

The 2007 Australian Women's Health Diary – Christmas shopping made easy!

Are you searching for a bright Christmas gift idea but have a limited budget and limited time? With just ten shopping days till Christmas, look no further than the 2007 Australian Women's Health Diary.

Priced at just $12.95 from newsagents and most Woolworths and Safeway supermarkets, the 2007 Australian Women's Health Diary is a great stocking filler or last-minute Christmas gift for the person who has everything - and each purchase is helping to raise valuable funds for breast cancer research.

The diary is a fundraising initiative of the Breast Cancer Institute of Australia and is proudly supported by Seven News Anchor, Chris Bath.

"Your family and friends will love to receive this diary, not only for the practical diary features it includes, but because it is bursting with the latest information on a wide range of women's health issues," says Chris. "I encourage everyone to purchase the Australian Women's Health Diary and support important research that is helping to save women's lives."

A different health topic is featured in the diary each month – from breast health, pregnancy and skin care, to financial health, first aid and lifestyle - and these are accompanied by up-to-date information and advice, colour pictures, diagrams and check-lists.

All proceeds from sales of the 2007 Australian Women's Health Diary will go to the Breast Cancer Institute of Australia to support the Australian New Zealand Breast Cancer Trials Group. This Group is dedicated to the treatment, cure and prevention of breast cancer through quality clinical trials research.

The diary is produced with the generous assistance of The Australian Women's Weekly, Commonwealth Bank and Avon. The ongoing sponsorship provided by these organisations is critical to the success of the diary and to the continued progress of our breast cancer research programs.

The 2007 Australian Women's Health Diary is available now for $12.95 from newsagents and most Woolworths and Safeway supermarkets nationally while stocks last, or for $15.95 (includes postage and handling) from the Breast Cancer Institute of Australia on 1800 423 444.
